FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NNR CEO RESIGNATION

Please consider this to be a formal notification that Adv Boyce Mkhize recently resigned as Chief Executive Officer of the National Nuclear Regulator to pursue a career in business. He will be leaving the employ of the NNR on 30 November 2012 to take on his new role. Adv Mkhize leaves just two months before the expiry of his three year term with the NNR. His departure has been mutually agreed with both the Board and the Minister of Energy. The Board has confirmed its satisfaction with the performance of Adv Mkhize and expresses its regret at losing Adv Mkhize when he has put so much into the NNR to make it an exceptional organization.

The NNR Board of Directors has been in discussion with the Minister of Energy regarding the seamless transitional arrangements and succession plans for the post of CEO. The recruitment process for a new CEO has commenced under the direction of the Minister of Energy with assistance from the Chairperson of the Board of Directors. The Board will announce the Acting CEO in the near future, if a permanent appointment is not made by the time Adv Mkhize leaves the NNR. All stakeholders are assured that the NNR will continue to operate with minimal disruption.
